BACKS STUDENT PROTEST

'Organic anger': Oppn finds a rare opening to corner govt

ASAD REHMAN
New Delhi, July 20

AS THE ANGER over paper leaks spilled onto the streets of Delhi on Monday and led to a police crackdown on the demonstrators, Opposition leaders targeted the Centre and called for a discussion on the matter in Parliament.

Several Opposition leaders said this was an opportunity to corner the government and expressed their resolve to disrupt parliamentary proceedings in the coming days to press for Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan's resignation, one of the primary demands of the protesters.

Leader of Opposition (LoP) Rahul Gandhi targeted Prime Minister Narendra Modi, labelling him "anti-youth". "Prime Minister Modi is the most anti-youth Prime Minister in India's history — so anti-youth that he can't even demand the resignation of a failed Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan."

The LoP said despite 152 paper leaks and "7.5 crore students victimized", no one had been punished. "Who got the punishment? The hardworking youth. And when these children raised legitimate questions about education — they were met with batons and detention in response ... The criminals who leaked the papers roam free — and the students raising valid issues are dragged around, beaten. This government isn't just failing the youth — it's pouncing on them."

Earlier in the day, as Opposition leaders gathered to chalk out their strategy on the floor of Parliament, the Congress pointed out how it had also launched a movement on matters related to the education system. After consulting allies, the party agreed to be more forceful while raising the matter of protesters facing police action on the streets of the Capital.

In the Rajya Sabha, House LoP and Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge told the Chair he wanted to speak on the issue of paper leak and the NEET examination "ghotala (scam)". "This is an issue of students and the issue of the future of lakhs of students. Thousands of students have gathered together at Jantar Mantar against this, and the government is carrying out a lathi-charge against them, and the government is trying to crush and beat them," he said.

In the Parliament House complex, Congress MP Priyanka Gandhi Vadra criticised the use of force on the protesters. "It's ridiculous ... They are our own children ... they are the future of the country. This Parliament belongs to them. It's no one's personal fiefdom."

"We have been saying there should be a discussion as there are problems in the education policy. You are not ready to discuss and fire tear gas at children and beat them up. For what? They are our children," said the Wayanad MP. Later in a post on X, she asked the BJP-led government to review its policies and shortcomings and called for a detailed discussion on this issue in the Lower House. The Prime Minister should listen to the concerns of the country's millions of youth and respond to them, Gandhi said.

'Organic anger'

Several Opposition leaders The Indian Express spoke to deemed it a rare moment when "organic anger" against the Modi government is seen on the streets and emphasised the need to capitalise on this. The leaders said they would continue to disrupt Parliament and submit adjournment motions demanding a discussion on paper leaks.

At the meeting of the Opposition floor leaders on Monday morning, the Congress initially insisted that they should raise the alleged theft of donations at the Ayodhya Ram Temple. However, after its allies pressed it to consider speaking up about the protest by the Cockroach Janta Party (CJP) and the plight of activist Sonam Wangchuk, it agreed, sources said. It was also decided that a "united Opposition" would continue to raise the issue of paper leaks and the Ram Temple in the coming days and not let the House function till the government agrees to a discussion on education reforms.

A Congress leader said the party had slowly realised that it could not avoid such a mass movement while being the main Opposition party. "While we were unsure initially, we are slowly getting to the point where we know we can't stay away from the movement or this moment," said a senior MP of the party.

The Congress's focus, insiders said, was on ensuring that the Ram Temple issue doesn't fade away. "We feel that the temple issue is something that can't be washed away in this CJP and NEET issue," said an MP.

Leaders of the Samajwadi party (SP), the second-largest Opposition party in the Lok Sabha, said paper leaks were a more urgent issue than Ram Temple, saying they could focus on it a few days later.

An SP MP told The Indian Express it was time for the Opposition to bring parliamentary proceedings to a halt in protest. "We are preparing adjournment motions and a strategy to demand a discussion on this paper leak issue in the House. It is now our responsibility to make the government feel the heat after what happened today," said the MP.

SP MP Iqra Choudhary said, "We have been active participants in the protests and will continue to be."

Nadda meets CJP team, but govt signals: Will listen, won't commit

LIZ MATHEW
New Delhi, July 20

AFTER NEARLY THREE weeks of protests at Jantar Mantar by the Cockroach Janta Party, headlined by the hunger strike of activist Sonam Wangchuk, the Government finally swung into action Monday, with Union Minister JP Nadda meeting CJP representatives.

Outlining the Government's approach, even as thousands of protesters marched towards Parliament demanding Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan's resignation, a senior Minister said that the protesters have been given a hearing but there has been no commitment on their demands.

"The protest is over," he asserted after a huddle by a group of ministers that included Pradhan and BJP President Nitin Nabin in Parliament House. "The meeting of Naddaji was to listen to the students... But we have not given them any assurance that the Government would consider their demands," the minister said. Sources in the BJP said the government decided to meet the protesting students as the situation had escalated on the first day of the Monsoon session and "created very bad optics". "Naturally, the government cannot be seen as insensitive to the protesting students," a party leader said.

Reflecting the thinking within the government, meanwhile, the senior minister asserted that the "real students" have ended the protests and "gone back to their classes" and "the results of the exams also have come out", referring to the NEET-UG results released last week. Earlier, Nadda met CJP spokespersons Saurav Das and Ashutosh Ranka even as security forces wielded batons and fired tear gas at the protesters, some of

Won't interfere in HC order quashing tender for passport: SC

THE SUPREME COURT Monday refused to interfere with the Delhi High Court's order quashing the tender process for outsourcing consular, passport and visa services at Indian missions in Abu Dhabi, Kuwait, Singapore and Canberra, but allowed the Centre to make interim arrangements to ensure uninterrupted services.

A three-judge bench presided over by CJI Surya Kant asked the government to implement the high court's directions within three months and directed that the services not be disrupted until then. "In our considered opinion, no interference in the impugned judgment of the High Court is called for. The Special Leave Petitions are accordingly dismissed. However, in order to ensure no impediment in day-to-day functioning is caused till the directions issued by the High Court are complied with... the judgement is modified to the limited extent as follows," the bench ordered.

The court said the Centre is free to allow existing incumbents to continue providing services across all four missions until a fresh Request for Proposal is issued.

It added that the government can also temporarily allot the work in all missions till the whom had reached just a few metres away from Parliament.

Parliament security personnel locked almost all the gates to the building premises even as senior ministers were huddled inside Union Home Minister Amit Shah's office in Parliament House. While Pradhan remained inside Shah's room for hours, other ministers such as Nadda, Kiren Rijiju and Piyush Goyal joined later. Nabin, too, was seen going inside Shah's office.

Nadda said the meeting with CJP representatives took place after the protesters sought one. "This morning, for the first time, a proposal came from the protesters to hold talks with the government, and our discussions have been ongoing since 11.50," he posted on X at 4:37 pm.

"The meeting took place in a cordial atmosphere. An initial verbal discussion was held in detail with their delegation, and they submitted a written petition to me around 4 pm. I have requested all the protesters to end their sit-in and assist the administration in restoring normalcy," Nadda posted.
