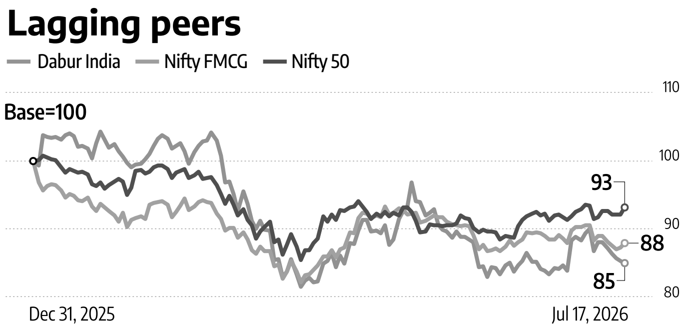
Sustained growth a key trigger for Dabur stock

After results, Street will track rural and international businesses

RAM PRASAD SAHU
Mumbai, 17 July

Lagging peers



Sources: Bloomberg, NSE

A strong showing in the June quarter, a healthy consumption outlook and reasonable valuations are positives for the stock of fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) major Dabur India. In addition to the Q1 pre-results update, which was positive, the Street will also track post-results management commentary, especially on rural demand and performance of international business in the near term.

For the stock, which has sharply underperformed its peers over the last six months, its ability to maintain consistent revenue growth rates will be a key rerating trigger.

The company's Q1FY27 pre-quarter update was better than expectations on the revenue as well as operating performance fronts. The company hit double-digit growth in consolidated sales after a gap of 11 quarters. This was led by high-teens growth in the international business and near double-digit growth in the India business.

In the domestic market, Q1FY27 volumes are expected to rise by 7 per cent Y-o-Y compared with 6 per cent increase in Q4FY26 and -1 per cent slip in Q1FY26. It is on the back of improving demand trends and the rural segment continuing to outpace urban growth.

Within key domestic categories, the home and personal care (HPC) segment was the outperformer, registering a growth of near teens.

The growth in the HPC segment was led by a robust performance in hair oils and shampoos with both categories expected to grow in high teens. The oral care segment, too, is likely to grow at near double-digit, led by momentum in the herbal franchise, Meswak, Red Toothpaste and Lal Dant Manjan. The healthcare segment is likely to improve sequentially with mid-single-digit growth, as strong double-digit growth in Hajmola, Pudin Hara, Health Juices, Dabur Honitus and Isabgol is partly offset by weakness in Dabur Glucose.

The foods business is expected to sustain double-digit growth, with the Badshah portfolio growing in high teens, while Beverages is likely to recover sequentially, supported by double-digit growth in Real Activ and coconut water. While double-digit sales growth is positive, it is slower versus peers like Marico and Godrej Consumer Products Ltd, point out analysts led by Mehul Desai of JM Financial Research.

More work needs to be done on accelerating growth in the healthcare and beverage portfolios. Valuations at 39 times FY27 and 34 times its FY28 earnings estimates are not demanding. Thus, the brokerage has retained its "add" rating with a target price of ₹505. However, rerating to the long-term average will be contingent on a more consistent delivery, especially on the revenue front, say the analysts.

International business is likely to grow 17 per cent in rupee terms and 11-12 per cent in constant currency with Egypt, Turkey, Bangladesh and the UK reporting strong double-digit growth despite continued geopolitical headwinds in West Asia. Though the quarter witnessed elevated input costs, the company offset the pressure through price hikes. Gross margins are likely to expand 147 basis points (bps) year-on-year (Y-o-Y) to 48.5 per cent while operating profit margins may remain stable at 19.5 per cent. This comes as elevated costs were neutralised by pricing actions, says Nuvama Research.

Analysts led by Abneesh Roy of the brokerage expect net profit to come in at 12 per cent Y-o-Y growth, supported by stronger revenue growth and resilient operating margins. The brokerage has a buy rating with a target price of ₹620.

PASSIVE HYBRID FUNDS

Invest for lower volatility, hassle-free asset allocation

SANJAY KUMAR SINGH

The mutual fund industry has begun to launch hybrid index funds that combine equity and debt. Edelweiss Mutual Fund earlier launched the Edelweiss Nifty LargeMid Cap 250 Plus 8-13 Year G-sec 70:30 Index Fund. The new fund offers of the Mirae Asset Nifty200 Momentum 30 Plus 8-13 Year G-sec 75:25 Index Fund and the Mirae Asset Nifty200 Momentum 30 Plus 8-13 Year G-sec 50:50 exchange-traded fund (ETF) are open.

Growth with stability

A passive hybrid fund combines the long-term growth potential of equities with the relative stability of government securities (G-sec). "In the Edelweiss Nifty LargeMidcap250 Plus 8-13 Yr G-sec 70:30 Index Fund, equities act as the primary return driver while G-secs help cushion market volatility," says Bhavesh Jain, president and co-head, factor investing, Edelweiss Mutual Fund. He adds that this structure aims to deliver a smoother investment experience and better risk-adjusted outcomes. G-secs can also reduce risks arising from the credit quality of instruments in the debt portfolio.

Disciplined asset allocation

Passive hybrid funds follow a rule-based strategy. "Investors can be reasonably confident that the fund will follow its stated strategy," says Deepesh Raghaw, Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi)-registered investment advisor (RIA). These funds follow a defined rebalancing approach. "Automatic rebalancing creates discipline in asset allocation," says Vishal Dhawan, founder and chief executive officer (CEO), Plan Ahead Wealth Advisors.

"Passive hybrid funds offer a low-cost and transparent approach to hybrid investing," says Siddharth Srivastava, head – ETF product and fund manager, Mirae Asset Mutual Fund.

Rebalancing takes place within the fund, so investors need not sell one asset class and buy another to restore the prescribed allocation. "Internal rebalancing does not create a tax liability for the investor. This makes a combined product more tax-efficient," says Raghaw. Investors can choose index combinations that suit their risk profile. "They can select the equity and debt indices that provide exposure to market-cap segments and investment strategies that suit their objectives," says Srivastava.

Equity upside gets capped

Since these funds do not have a 100 per cent equity portfolio, their investors do not participate fully in an equity-market rally.

"A hybrid fund with equity exposure below 65 per cent would be subject to non-equity taxation, which would reduce its post-tax return," says Dhawan.

Treat back-tests with caution

Passive hybrid index funds and ETFs are new. Any long track record they display is based on back-tested data, not live performance.

"Performance can change significantly once real money begins tracking the index," says Raghaw. Investors should treat back-tests as one input, not as a predictor of future returns.

Who should invest

First-time equity investors and conservative investors may consider these funds for a less volatile experience than a pure-equity fund. "Investors seeking a hassle-free, tax-efficient asset-allocation solution may consider these funds," says Jain.

These funds may also suit investors who accept the prescribed allocation and do not want frequent tactical changes. Existing equity investors seeking lower portfolio volatility may also consider them.

Who should stay away

Investors seeking high equity exposure may find these funds unsuitable. "Aggressive investors may find the equity allocation restrictive," says Dhawan.

Those who actively manage their asset allocation or make tactical shifts between asset classes may find the structure limiting. Investors working with an adviser may prefer a customised allocation. "They may prefer separate funds," says Dhawan. Separate funds make portfolio-level asset allocation easier to control.

Investors must understand the underlying equity and debt indices. "Those who find these structure too complex should avoid these funds," says Raghaw.

Indices' risk-return profile

Large and midcap index
- Largecap stocks can provide stable returns
- Midcaps can improve long-term returns
- Largecaps may offer lower upside than midcaps
- Midcaps come with higher volatility

Momentum index
- Can capture upside strongly in favourable equity markets
- Can see sharp drawdowns

8-13-year G-sec index
- G-secs may offset equity drawdowns
- Do not carry credit risk
- But have long duration, can fall considerably when interest rates rise

How EPFO profile photo can help in PF claims

Members of the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) should ensure that their profile has a recent passport-sized photograph on the EPFO portal, as it can help complete e-nominations and support smoother online claim settlements. A profile photo is not mandatory for every EPFO service, but it forms part of a member's digital records and is used during online verification. Members with outdated or missing photographs may face difficulties while completing e-nominations or accessing certain online services.

A valid e-nomination ensures that EPF savings, along with Employees' Pension Scheme and Employees' Deposit Linked Insurance benefits, can be transferred to eligible nominees with fewer procedural hurdles. The nomination becomes valid only after Aadhaar-based e-sign authentication.

Members can update their photograph by logging into the EPFO Unified Member Portal using their Universal Account Number (UAN), opening the "profile" or "view" section, uploading a recent passport-sized photograph and saving the changes.

What members should do
- Upload a recent passport-sized photo on the EPFO portal
- Complete Aadhaar-based e-sign to validate the e-nomination
- Check that Aadhaar, PAN, bank account, mobile number and email are correctly linked to the UAN
- Verify that family details and nominee information are accurate to avoid delays in future EPF, EPS and EDLI claims.
