Stormy Monsoon session of Parliament ends; several Bills passed without debate

BJP accuses Rahul of changing goalposts on discussions

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

NEW DELHI, AUG 13: Lok Sabha was adjourned sine die on Thursday, drawing curtains on a stormy Monsoon session which saw relentless protests by the Opposition on the police action on student protesters and alleged theft of Ram temple donations, and passage of several key Bills without a debate.

Amid the opposition protests and disruption, the Lower House functioned for 15 per cent of its scheduled time. As soon as the House met for the day, all six stanzas of national song Vande Mataram were played following which Speaker Om Birla adjourned the House sine die (for an indefinite period). Birla did not read out the usual valedictory address in which he highlights the performance and productivity of Lok Sabha during the session. Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah and Defence Minister Rajnath Singh among others were present when the House met for a brief while. During this session, the Speaker has repeatedly asked Opposition members to participate in debate, but the Opposition had continued with its protests, forcing repeated adjournments.

On Thursday too, the Opposition raised slogans against the government. The session began on July 20 and has been witnessing vociferous protest by the Opposition earlier over the NETET paper leak issue and alleged theft of donations at the Ram temple in Ayodhya. Later the Monsoon Session had fallen victim to "one leader's ego, indiscipline and insolence". Addressing a press conference on the last day of the Monsoon Session, senior BJP leader and MP Ravi Shankar Prasad alleged that the Opposition did not allow Parliament to function despite the government's readiness for discussions. Calling Rahul irresponsible and "immature", Prasad accused him of lacking political propriety.

"I would like to repeat that Rahul Gandhi is irresponsible. Rahul Gandhi is yet to mature as a leader in the politics of the country. Rahul Gandhi is delinquent. And Rahul Gandhi has a great sense of arrogance and entitlement," he said. "The Parliament's Monsoon Session has fallen victim to one leader's ego, indiscipline and insolence," he added.

He said that the Congress MP and the Opposition kept changing the goalposts during the entire Monsoon session. Prasad said that the Opposition had first demanded a discussion on NEET, then Rahul staged a protest outside the Prime Minister's residence, demanded the resignation of the education minister, and later sought answers from Modi.

The former Union Minister said Rahul had repeatedly demanded that the home minister respond to the alleged police action in Delhi, but when Amit Shah offered to participate in a debate and respond to every point, the Opposition still did not allow the discussion.

During the session, he hit back by urging Speaker Birla on Wednesday to consult the opposition for a debate on students' protests over the NEET paper-leak issue and said he is ready to answer all questions in the House. In a letter to the Speaker, Shah had said dialogue and discussions are the only ways to find solutions in a democracy and he has full faith in democracy and democratic institutions.

On the penultimate day of the session, the report of a probe panel constituted by the speaker to investigate charges of wrong doing against Justice Yashwant Varma was tabled in Parliament. Varma has been found guilty by a panel with the committee saying the charges of unexplained cash, disturbing evidence and evasive explanation against him "are proved".

The BJP on Thursday accused Congress leader

Rahul Gandhi of repeatedly changing goalposts on discussions in Parliament and alleged that the Monsoon Session had fallen victim to "one leader's ego, indiscipline and insolence". Addressing a press conference on the last day of the Monsoon Session, senior BJP leader and MP Ravi Shankar Prasad alleged that the Opposition did not allow Parliament to function despite the government's readiness for discussions.
